Philadelphia General Election 2006 Fact Sheet

Vote on Tuesday, November 7!

If you have any difficulty registering to vote or voting at the polls on Election Day, call the Committee of Seventy at (215) 557-3600, the Election Day Complaint Hotline at (215) 686-1590, or Project H.O.M.E. at (215) 232-7272, ext. 3042.

You cannot be prevented from voting for the following reasons:

- you are homeless – just provide a temporary mailing address
- you are physically/mentally disabled – you can bring someone into the booth to help you vote
- you have a justice system record – people with prior convictions can register and vote
- you do not have your ID – you can vote by provisional ballot

See below for more information.

- The voter registration deadline for the General Election is Tuesday, October 10, 2006. Voter registration forms are available at Project H.O.M.E., which is located at 1515 Fairmount Avenue, and at most government offices.
- All registered voters may vote for candidates and ballot questions in the General election on Tuesday, November 7. You must vote at the polling place that corresponds to the address where you have most recently registered. Call the City Commissioners' Office at (215) 686-1520 or 1523 or the Committee of Seventy at (215) 557-3600 to find the polling place designated for your address.
- If you go to the wrong polling place on Election Day, ask the election official to call the County Board of Elections to see if and where you are eligible to vote. If the election official is unable or unwilling to call, you should find a telephone – even a pay phone – and call the County Board of Elections at (215) 686-1590. If you cannot determine your polling place, you can vote at any polling place by a provisional ballot (see below for more information).
- If you are voting for the first time at a particular polling site, bring ID to your polling place. If you do not have ID, you can vote by provisional ballot at your polling place. A provisional ballot is a temporary paper ballot that will be examined within three days of the election and will be counted if you are determined to be a registered voter in Philadelphia County. If you vote at the wrong polling place by provisional ballot, your vote will only count in the races for which you are eligible to vote, based on your registration address. Even if this is your first time voting at your polling place, you do not need to have identification with you to vote, BUT, bringing any form of approved ID (including your voter registration card) will mean that your vote will be counted that day rather than in the days following the election. If you do not have identification and you have problems at the polls, call the Committee of Seventy at (215) 557-3600.

- If you do not have a permanent address, you can use the address of a shelter/facility where you have an established relationship such that the facility will accept non-forwardable mail. If you need to establish a temporary address for this purpose, visit the Philadelphia Committee to End Homelessness at 802 N. Broad Street (Monday - Friday, 9am - 2pm) or go to St. John's Hospice at 1221 Race Street (Monday - Friday, 9am - 3pm).
- Convicted felons released from prison, people awaiting trial, and those on probation, parole, and house arrest can now vote. The five-year waiting period for felons has been eliminated. The Pennsylvania Commonwealth Court restored the right to vote for ex-felons as of December 2000. Contact John Leib, JEVS Prison Program, at 215-685-7114 for more information.
- You have the right to assistance with voting inside the voting machine. You must fill out a Declaration of Assistance form at the polling place on Election Day. Then, anyone you select may enter the voting booth with you to help you cast your vote. The only people who may not assist with voting are your employer, your union leader, or the Judge of Elections at your polling place.
- If you are unable to get to the polls on Election Day because your polling place is inaccessible, you have several voting options. If you are disabled or over 65 years of age, you may vote by alternative ballot at City Hall. Contact the County Board of Elections at (215) 686-0505 for more information. If you will be absent from home on Election Day because of work responsibilities or other duties or if you are unable to go to the polls because of illness or physical disability, you may vote by absentee ballot. You must submit your application for an absentee ballot by October 31, 2006 to vote in the General Election. Please note that you must include a photocopy of your identification when you mail in your absentee ballot if you are a first-time voter in Philadelphia and you registered to vote by mail. If you have questions about accessibility issues at the polls, please contact the City Commissioner's office at (215) 686-3460 or the Committee of Seventy at (215) 557-3600.
